

Creating Culturally Responsive Teaching and 'The Magnitude of Us'

This professional development will offer an overview of culturally responsive teaching, using "The Magnitude of Us" as a guide to gain learning and actionable ways to implement culturally responsive teaching. We will discuss culturally responsive teaching and have small group activities to discuss and examine not only what culturally responsive teaching entails but also how we can implement and sustain it in our classrooms.

Meet the Speakers

Dr. Marlee Bunch

Interdisciplinary Educator

Dorlande Charles

Illinois State Board of Education

Munira Nuru

Former Student

Goals and Objectives

Gain an understanding of what culturally responsive teaching entails.

Discover tools, resources, and practices that support culturally responsive pedagogy and implementation.

Learn and reflect through discussing and actively learning with colleagues.

Click or scan to register!

